

JamÓige

12pm		19°C
6pm		22°C
9pm		19°C

Issue B

THE OFFICIAL JAMÓIGE NEWSPAPER

4 June 2016

News in Brief

- Pallaskerry natives describe multiple sightings of Beavers
- Samurai warriors sign peace accord with Zulu Chiefs, for now.
- Egyptians accused of establishing pyramid scheme
- Explorers not lost, just "exploring"
- Vikings asked to stay away from Aztec towers
- Astronauts ask what have the "Romans ever done for us?"
- Scout Shop tries to sell umbrellas as "Lactose-Free" Cornettos.
- Message for Mike, Zulu subcamp. "Juliett says you left your Uniform in the Hotel"
- Due to breezy conditions. Celts asked to wear shorts instead of kilts

"RIGHT, WE'VE ARRIVED NOW. YOU CAN DECLARE THE CAMP OPEN"

There were scenes of exhausted, excited young faces all day Friday, as Cubs from all over the country were getting off of buses after journeys from far and not so far.

Everyone looked happy that the travelling was over. The next challenge was getting from the buses to the Subcamps and with a little help, everyone found their sites.

Whether they've come from two kilometres away, 200km away, or Two Mile Borris.

Tents were pitched and homes for JamÓige 2016 were made.

It's great to have sunny warm weather, especially on camp. But, it is important to remember sun safety.

Here are the top sun safety tips for JamÓige:

Slip on a t-shirt
Wear a top that covers your shoulders

Slap on a hat
Wear a hat. Your head is at the top of your body, which is the closest part of you to the sun.

Slop on the sun-cream
Put on suncream

THE SUN HAS GOT SHADES ON, AND YOU SHOULD TOO

regularly (Factor 50, please)

Slug down cold drinks
Drink loads of water. Always carry a bottle with you and try not to waste it. Every time you sweat, you lose water. It's important to drink enough to keep hydrated.

Slow down
Running all the time will make you even hotter. Take breaks (and drink water)

Sleep in the shade
Don't rest in direct sunlight. Hide in the shade of a tree, building, tent or taller member of your group.

WHAT'S IT ALL ABOUT? NOT A LOT OF PEOPLE KNOW THIS, BUT ZULU WANT TO FIND MICHAEL CAINE'S TWIN

The Zulu Subcamp will be running their inaugural Michael Caine impersonation competition over the weekend. The famous British actor played the lead in the 1964 film Zulu which depicted the 1879 Battle of Rorke's Drift alongside Stanley Baker. It is hoped that Cub Scouts will be able to do a 30 second impersonation of Sir Caine, with costume, from one of his famous films, including, but not limited to, Funeral in Berlin, The Cider House Rules, and The Dark Knight. Duo impersonations of Sir Caine with Sean Connery, as the protagonists in The Man Who

Would Be King are also welcome.

The Pallaskenry Film and Cinema Appreciation Society (PFCAS) was delighted that JamÓige was acknowledging the work of such a talented and prolific actor. Their spokesperson, Ms Katy Bigelow, told us that she hoped "Sir Caine would hear of the competition and visit Pallaskenry." Mr B Buster of the local video store has said there has been an uptake in the rentals of Michael Caine films. When asked about streaming services he was unavailable for comment.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ON THE INTERNET

#JAMÓIGE

@89thBremore: Best of luck to everyone attending #JamÓige in Pallaskenry this weekend. It's sure to be a cracker. #ScoutsIE @ScoutingIreland @McCannChristy

@BazKennedy: been up since 7am - only having breakfast now. Been rushing about getting stuff ready for #JamÓige #SamuraiSubcamp

@DRNickGP: And we're off..... @DouglasScouts #excited heading to @ScoutingIreland #JamÓige #ScoutsIE

@RichardScriven I've heard a rumour the comms team might use tweets with #JamÓige for JamNuacht. #willigetchosen

- Quotes
- "It was all going well until the Cubs arrived" -B. Kennedy
  - "I'm kind of a big deal, people know me" -S. Halpin
  - "The Complaints Department is the Box marked 'Shredder'" - D. Shaloo
  - "It's Hot!" - R. Nevin

SCAN THIS QR CODE FOR A FULL COLOUR VERSION OF EACH ISSUE

